The Sabotage Tour was a concert tour by British heavy metal band Black Sabbath. It began on 14 July 1975 and ended on 13 January 1976. Kiss supported at a handful of dates on the first and second North American legs. "I don't particularly like Kiss," said Tony Iommi the following year. "They're not my type of band at all. Their stage show was done long before by Arthur Brown."

The shortest album of Black Sabbath's glory years, Master of Reality is also their most sonically influential work. Here Tony Iommi began to experiment with tuning his guitar down three half-steps to C#, producing a sound that was darker, deeper, and sludgier than anything they'd yet committed to record. (This trick was still being copied 25 years later by every metal band looking to push the ...
